Deductible: The amount you pay before your health insurance starts paying for covered medical expenses.

Co-Insurance: The portion you pay once your deductible has been met. You will pay this percentage until you have hit your out-of-pocket maximum.

Out-of-pocket maximum: This is the most you will need to pay towards healthcare expenses in a given year. Your deductible and coinsurance are all applied towards your out-of-pocket maximum.

Embedded: Each individual has their own deductible. When any one person reaches their individual deductible, the plan begins paying co-insurance for that individual.

Non Embedded: You do not have individual deductibles. Co-insurance begins when the combined family medical costs reach the family deductible.
